Continuation of 3. NOTE: Applicants have added two new claims 10-11 in the amendment filed on 07/18/2011, which add new limitations to the cancelled original claims that ultimately change claim scope and would require new searching. Specifically, in claims 10 and 11 the newly added limitations "acetylsalicylic acid in a concentration of 0.1-5%" and the limitation of inclusion of "at least one carrier selected from the group" changes the scope of the claims in terms of the narrowing of the concentration of acetylsalicylic acid and the final makeup of the composition.

Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicants have added two new claims 10-11 in the amendment filed on 07/18/2011, which add new limitations to the cancelled original claims that ultimately change claim scope and would require new searching. Specifically, in claims 10 and 11 the newly added limitations "acetylsalicylic acid in a concentration of 0.1-5%" and the limitation of inclusion of "at least one carrier selected from the group" changes the scope of the claims in terms of the narrowing of the concentration of acetylsalicylic acid and the final makeup of the composition.

Applicants arguments in response to the final rejection malled on 07/18/2011 has been considered but are deemed unpersuasive. Not considering the newly amended claims 10-11 set forth in the response of 07/18/2011, since it will not be entered into the record, none of the arguments presented by the Applicant has been found to be persuasive because they are directed to the proposed amended claims.
